WHO'S USING MARKETMAKER...

Gonsoulin Land and Cattle

Gonsoulin credits MarketMaker for a 20-25% boost in sales in the South Louisiana area

“Consumers will buy local as long as they have an avenue to get it, and we think MarketMaker is that avenue. People want to know where their food is coming from.”

We are very pleased with the response we have received from having our product listed in MarketMaker.”

Cornerstone Seventh Day Adventist Church, Brooklyn, NY

- Food pantry serves 200-250 per week
- Sunday dinner served to 300
- Wanted to source from local farms for fruit and vegetables to be delivered the day before Thanksgiving

J. Glebocki Farms, NY delivered 100 cases of produce to the church in response to the notification sent out to producers through MarketMaker's Trade Alert System

Palos Heights, IL Farmers Market

“Last year I had an opportunity to take over a second farmers market, but came on board late in April. By then most of the vendors I knew were already booked out for the summer and the previous manager had moved the existing vendors elsewhere on that day.

Thank goodness for MarketMaker and how easy it was to use. I was able to spend a few days perusing the data base to locate a few new vendors or get in contact with some who could refer others...It's been a great tool and I highly recommend it.”

Daniel and Anna's Orchard

New Iberia, Louisiana

Since registering in Sept. 2010, Daniel Romero attributes several calls directly to his MarketMaker listing. One being an out-of-state persimmon buyer.

“I’ve noticed that we’ve had more traffic from outside the area, even as far as Texas, coming to the orchard since we registered. I believe MarketMaker has helped those looking for exotic fruits find our orchard.”
