

The Dr. Arden N. Huff Endowed Equestrian Scholarship

A Grass Roots Program . . .

to establish a permanent endowed equestrian scholarship fund in the Animal and Poultry Sciences Department at Virginia Tech. This is an opportunity to recognize and provide scholarship funds for our undergraduate students dedicated to horses. It is an investment in our future.

Dr. Arden N. Huff, retired extension horse specialist, provided leadership for over 30 years to the 4-H horse program. He coached twenty-five national horse and livestock judging teams. Dr. Huff has taken numerous Virginia 4-Hers and leaders far beyond the state's borders to show that youth in the 4-H horse program can hold their own with any similar group in the nation.

A former judging team member, Marilyn Adams Jarvis, stated: "There are many of us out here that are better people because of his contributions. We are better communicators, decision makers, and leaders. We are more proficient in our knowledge of the horse, the horse industry and horse people. He not only was the best judging coach, but he introduced us to people that were the best in their breed area and/or very knowledgeable in their equestrian discipline."

The Huff Scholarship Committee invites and encourages everyone to consider donating to this fund in honor of Dr. Huff's dedication and service to the many youth in the State of Virginia. For more information on the scholarship and how to donate funds, please contact the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Development Office at (540) 231-5546. Please complete the form below to record your tax deductible gift.
