RE: Block & Bridle Club Livestock Judging, Meat Judging, and Stockmen's Contests

The Virginia Tech Block and Bridle Club has scheduled their annual livestock judging, meat judging, and stockmen's contests for February 24 and 25 on the Virginia Tech campus in Blacksburg. This packet includes all information about the contests, lodging, and entries. There have been several changes to the contests this year, so please read all parts carefully.

Eligibility note: All individuals wishing to participate in the events must be enrolled members of either 4-H or FFA in Virginia.

Please note that there is no limit to the number of teams a county or chapter can enter in any contest. As a reminder, there is a Jr. and Sr. advanced contest (those giving reasons), so please enter your teams and individuals for the livestock judging contest appropriately.

Please note there has been a change in times for both the stockmen's and meat judging contests. The Jr. meat judging and Sr. stockmen's contests will start at 10:00 AM, and the Jr. stockmen's and Sr. meat judging contests will start at 3:00 PM. We hope that this new schedule will make the contests run more smoothly for all involved.

The entry fee is $5 per individual in every contest. Individuals competing in the advanced divisions of the livestock judging contest are required to pay an additional $5 fee for lunch during the contest. Entries are due by February 7!! There are additional fees associated with entries received after the contest deadline.

Stockmen's Contest – The stockmen's contest is a test of general knowledge of livestock. Contest format is similar to the State stockmen's contest. The 15-minute classes include a 20-25 question multiple choice quiz (100 points); identification of feeds, equipment, breeds, and retail meat cuts (50 points each class); judging of hay, retail meat cuts, and classes of live animals (50 points each class); and questions about judging classes (25 points each class). It is possible the contest may feature a scenario for one of the species (50 points) in lieu of judging that class. For Sr. teams only, there will be a group exercise that members will complete together. Sample contest materials and previous years' quizzes can be found at the 4-H Youth Livestock Program website at: <http://ext.vt.edu/4h-youth/youth-livestock/competitions/block-bridle.html>. Please be aware that we will have a Nutritive Analysis scenario and information questions on the hay judging for Sr.'s, separate Jr. and Sr. classes for both hay and meat, and separate sets of breeds, feeds, and equipment for Jr.'s and Sr.'s. Point values for classes are not final.

VIRGINIA POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE AND STATE UNIVERSITY

Extension is a joint program of Virginia Tech, Virginia State University, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and state and local governments.

Virginia Cooperative Extension programs and employment are open to all, regardless of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. An equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Members who have previously participated in the National 4-H Skillathon contest are not eligible to participate in this contest. The contest will be held Friday, February 24. Contest divisions and contestant eligibility are detailed in the summary table.

Livestock Judging Contest – This contest will consist of eight to ten classes, including beef cattle, swine, sheep and goats. Performance data will be presented on at least one breeding class in each species. Up to 10 questions will be asked on 2 classes. Meat goats could be used for either a reasons class or questions class.

The contest will be broken into four divisions: Jr. livestock judging contest, Sr. livestock judging contest, Jr. advanced livestock judging contest and Sr. advanced livestock judging contest. Contestants 13 years and younger as of January 1, 2017 (4-H) or 8th grade or earlier (FFA) who are not giving reasons will compete in the Jr. division. All contestants 14 or older as of January 1, 2017 or 9th grade or later (FFA) who do not give reasons will compete in the Sr. division. All contestants who give reasons will be in the Jr. advanced and Sr. advanced divisions based on the previously stated age breaks. Contestants in the Jr. advanced division will place all classes, answer all questions, and will give oral reasons on 2 classes. Contestants in the Sr. advanced division will place all classes, answer all questions, and will give oral reasons on 4 classes (2 beef, 1 sheep, and 1 swine). All other contestants will place all classes, answer all questions, but will not give any oral reasons.

For advanced contestants only (Jr. and Sr.), the market lamb class will be in racks and contestants will handle them (15 seconds for each lamb, timed movement). There will be a second market lamb class for students not in the advanced divisions that will be in racks, but not handled.

Members who have previously participated in the National 4-H Livestock Judging contest or National Livestock Evaluation CDE are not eligible to participate in this contest. The contest will be held Saturday, February 25. Contest divisions, contestant eligibility, and contest schedule are detailed in the summary table.

Meat Judging Contest – The contest will be held Friday, February 24. This will be the Virginia State Contest for 4-H and FFA members. The contest will be broken into separate 4-H and FFA divisions.

Quiz material will come from the Meat Science and Food Safety Microsoft PowerPoint found at: <http://www.cevmultimedia.com/index.php?p=product&id=1595>. Please be aware that you must order the PowerPoint from CEV and the cost is $125.00.

Contestant Responses: FFA and 4-H will use their respective organization's Identification Key and Score Sheet. For 2017, contestants will complete a Scantron form for all responses to the meat judging contest. This includes quiz, placings for judging classes, answers to questions, and all the additional classes that are only in the FFA contest. Please familiarize your contestants with this form. Form is available at: http://www.ext.vt.edu/topics/4h-youth/youth-livestock/competitions/meats-judging/files/national_meats_scantron.pdf. To maintain cleanliness of the Scantron forms, contestants will be given a form resembling the Scantron form to complete while in the meats lab. Contestants will be given adequate time to transfer their responses to the Scantron after exiting the meats lab.

Materials to be used by 4-H contestants in addition to the Scantron can be found on the 4-H Youth Livestock Program website at: <http://ext.vt.edu/4h-youth/youth-livestock/competitions/meat-contest-info.html>.

FFA Contest: Description of contest format, examples, contest materials, etc. are available in updated CDE guide: https://www.ffa.org/SiteCollectionDocuments/cde_meats_2012.pdf. Beef grading for this contest may be from a description of carcass characteristics provided. Beef carcasses may not be available. All contestant responses will be put on the Scantron Form described above. Make sure your team members know how to use this form.

The National FFA Meat Evaluation and Technology CDE has changed this year to employ a three person team format with no drop score, instead of a four person team, and therefore our state FFA meat judging contest will follow that system.

Classes in the judging portion of the contest will come from the following:

Lamb Carcasses	Beef ribs, loins, chucks, rounds, strips, or other wholesale cut
Pork Carcasses
Fresh Hams	Retail Cuts of beef, pork, or lamb
Beef Carcasses may be available. All efforts to provide this class will be made

Attire – In addition to wearing closed toed shoes, contestants will be required to bring frocks, hard hats and hair/beard nets for their own use in the meat judging contest, as we try to more closely follow the format of the national contests. Some suppliers of these items are listed below:

Koch Supplies: <http://www.kochsupplies.com/>

UltraSource: <https://www.ultrasourceusa.com/>

National Contest Participation - The winning team in the Sr. 4-H division will be invited to represent Virginia at the National 4-H Meat Judging Contest. That will be held at Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas in October.

Information about past 4-H contests and background material useful in training and preparing teams can be found at the American Meat Science Association website at: <http://www.meatscience.org/students/meat-judging-program/national-4-h-meat-judging>.

The winning Sr. FFA team will be eligible to compete at the National FFA convention in Indianapolis in October. Details of that event can be found on the national FFA website.

Contest divisions and contestant eligibility are detailed in the summary table.

Lunches: Lunches will be available for coaches and non-advanced contestants on Saturday, February 25, during the 4-H and FFA livestock judging contest for $5, but must be purchased in advance. You are on your own for lunch if you don't order in advance. Additional lunches will not be available for purchase for any entries postmarked after February 16.

Entry forms: Entry forms are found on the Block and Bridle contests section of the Virginia 4-H Livestock website at: <http://ext.vt.edu/4h-youth/youth-livestock/competitions/block-bridle.html>. Write-in the contestant information and check the contests in which each person will participate. Send an electronic copy of the completed forms to bnbcontest@vt.edu.

Complete and mail the hard copy to Block and Bridle Judging Contest, APSC-0306, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Make checks payable to Virginia Tech B & B Club with your county or school as the memo. Note: You must send your completed entry forms by e-mailing them to the above web address, as well as, sending in the printed, completed hard copies to the Block and Bridle Judging Contest.

Entries MUST be postmarked by February 7 in order to be received on time! Any entries postmarked February 8-16 will be considered late. Late entries will be accepted at an entry fee of $10 per contestant. Entries postmarked any time after February 16 or not received until contest date will ONLY be accepted with an entry fee of $15 per contestant.
