

Class 2

Name _____

Contestant No. _____

SENIOR BREED IDENTIFICATION

Breed	Trait
1 _____	_____	Cattle	Sheep	AA. This hog breed is known for its heavy muscling, but has caused recent controversy by producing meat with unacceptable quality.
2 _____	_____	A. Angus	R. Tunis	BB. This breed is the second most popular sheep breed in the US.
3 _____	_____	B. Gelbvieh	S. Shropshire	CC. This breed is the most popular sheep breed in the US.
4 _____	_____	C. Belgian Blue	T. Corriedale	DD. This cattle breed was developed in Barvaria, south Germany.
5 _____	_____	D. Shorthorn	U. Jacob	EE. This cattle breed is born fawn/tan, and changes color to grey-white as it ages.
6 _____	_____	E. Charolais	V. Dorper	FF. This cattle breed is creamy or white in color, and is known for growth and carcass yield.
7 _____	_____	F. Chianina	W. Dorset	GG. This cattle breed is 3/8 Brahman and 5/8 Angus, developed in the US.
8 _____	_____	G. Piedmontese	X. Polypay	HH. This cattle breed was originally developed as a dual purpose breed, and can be red, white, or roan.
9 _____	_____	H. South Devon	Y. Finnsheep	II. This hog breed originated in Chester County, Pennsylvania.
10 _____	_____	I. Santa Gertrudis	Z. Texel	JJ. This sheep breed was developed in New Zealand and Australia by crossing Lincolns with Merinos.
		Swine		KK. This maternal sheep breed was developed by crossing of a Finnsheep x Rambouillet x Dorset x Targhee.
		J. Chester White		LL. This hog breed is noted for prolific sows with good milk production.
		K. Duroc		MM. This popular hog breed is contains a high amount of muscling, while maintaining a high level of soundness and durability.
		L. Spot		NN. This cattle breed is known for growth and carcass yield, developed in France.
		M. Yorkshire
		N. Hampshire.
		O. Landrace
		P. Pietrain
		Q. Poland China

Class 2

Name _____

Contestant No. _____

SENIOR BREED IDENTIFICATION

Breed	Trait
1 _____	_____	Cattle	Sheep	AA. This hog breed is known for its heavy muscling, but has caused recent controversy by producing meat with unacceptable quality.
2 _____	_____	A. Angus	R. Tunis	BB. This breed is the second most popular sheep breed in the US.
3 _____	_____	B. Gelbvieh	S. Shropshire	CC. This breed is the most popular sheep breed in the US.
4 _____	_____	C. Belgian Blue	T. Corriedale	DD. This cattle breed was developed in Barvaria, south Germany.
5 _____	_____	D. Shorthorn	U. Jacob	EE. This cattle breed is born fawn/tan, and changes color to grey-white as it ages.
6 _____	_____	E. Charolais	V. Dorper	FF. This cattle breed is creamy or white in color, and is known for growth and carcass yield.
7 _____	_____	F. Chianina	W. Dorset	GG. This cattle breed is 3/8 Brahman and 5/8 Angus, developed in the US.
8 _____	_____	G. Piedmontese	X. Polypay	HH. This cattle breed was originally developed as a dual purpose breed, and can be red, white, or roan.
9 _____	_____	H. South Devon	Y. Finnsheep	II. This hog breed originated in Chester County, Pennsylvania.
10 _____	_____	I. Santa Gertrudis	Z. Texel	JJ. This sheep breed was developed in New Zealand and Australia by crossing Lincolns with Merinos.
		Swine		KK. This maternal sheep breed was developed by crossing of a Finnsheep x Rambouillet x Dorset x Targhee.
		J. Chester White		LL. This hog breed is noted for prolific sows with good milk production.
		K. Duroc		MM. This popular hog breed is contains a high amount of muscling, while maintaining a high level of soundness and durability.
		L. Spot		NN. This cattle breed is known for growth and carcass yield, developed in France.
		M. Yorkshire
		N. Hampshire.
		O. Landrace
		P. Pietrain
		Q. Poland China		